Mañana from a New Today

Save the date: February 4 and 5!

For 35 years, Mañana: Christian Theology from a Hispanic Perspective has formed, inspired, and challenged the Church to recognize God's work through the experience, hope, and resilience of the Hispanic community. Dr. Justo L. González, founder of AETH, offered us not only a book, but a vision, a reminder that mañana is built from today. It is the promise of God's future, a call to live faithfully here and now, and an invitation to build a Church rooted in justice, culture, and community.

At AETH, that vision continues to guide our mission. We work to equip, form, and empower Hispanic leaders to serve with excellence, transform society, and embody the rich theological heritage that González articulated so clearly. As we celebrate this anniversary under the theme “Mañana from a New Today,” we also reaffirm our commitment to theological education that honors our stories, our languages, and our calling.

Join us for this celebration and be part of the journey... is FREE!
